Code of Ethics for Research

The college research cell has robust systems that ensure compliance of required research ethics, plagiarism checks and grievance redressal. The center provides infrastructure and library resources, support and motivation.

The code of ethics serves as a framework to guide ethical behavior and decision-making in research activities at Sri Ramakrishna Degree College(Autonomous). Researchers, faculty, students, and staff are expected to adhere to these principles to uphold the integrity and credibility of the institution's research endeavors.

1. The researcher shall be honest in conducting research.
2. The researcher shall be consistent and bring objectivity in research outcomes.
3. The researcher shall be neutral and independent with research finding and outcomes.
4. The researcher shall be fair and just in providing references and giving acknowledgement to authors for any data or information quoted for research purpose.
5. The research scholars for PhD programs shall compulsorily complete a module on research ethics and plagiarism as part of the research work.
